FAQ's

A drawing fee applies for all CADs from the time the drawing has been started. If the customer cancels a job once it has been started, a drawing fee will be charged. The amount of this fee is determined by the complexity and style of CAD.

All price estimations are based on a gold/stone weight calculation and are subject to revision during the drawing process. Final charges are calculated on total of fees and gold price at time of invoice.

Additional drawing charges apply for alterations to a CAD that has been drawn. Minor adjustments applied to the first drawing will not be charged.
